“ To Patricia Jewel and all of Lamont's family and friends:
You have my deepest condolences in this tremendous loss. I guess it was about 30 years ago when I met Lamont in Boston. He was such a pleasant person to be around! I pray that he is rejoicing in Paradise, and I pray that all of you will be comforted with the peace that only God can give.

“ My condolences to the Childers family.

I enjoyed the times that Lamont would stop by my office and we would spend a great deal of time talking about life, past and present. Laugh till we're almost in tears. It didn't matter what I had going on I would stop just to spend time with my friend.

Our paths crossed later in life but we would joke about the chaos we would have caused together if we met each other before we met Jesus.

I am thankful for the great memories and wish we could have created more.

Much love and sympathy to Patricia and the family.

“ Lamont worked at Denali Federal Credit Union while I was in the Collection department and previously in IT. I first met him when his computer stopped working. Such a wonderful person with a wonderful personality. He'd always grab me in passing to give me candy he had at his desk. We'd joke around and I'm so sorry to hear of his passing. My thoughts and prayers are with him and his family.

“ My condolences to Lamont's family especially his wife. Lamont was a good friend, he never hesitated to help someone in need. He was kind, generous and funny. He always fed us even when we weren't hungry. He always gave us advice and was a brother figure I never had. I am thankful to have met such an amazing brother. It's not goodbye, it's a see you later. You will be missed my brother.

“ My heartfelt condolences to Lamont's family and friends.

Lamont,

It is such an honor to call you a friend. You had a heart of gold and were always there for anyone in need. Especially your friends.

While we met under less than ideal circumstances, I will cherish the memories of the many hours playing Dungeons & Dragons. You always fought the good fight, in game and in life.

Rest in peace, my dear friend. You are greatly missed.
