

Rodney Deno Juliani

December 3, 1944 - August 29, 2018

Rod was born December 3, 1944 in Waynesburg, PA, the only son of Deno and Wilda Juliani. He passed away so suddenly on August 29, 2018 in Scottsdale, AZ. He is survived by his loving wife of 51 years, Annelen, Negria Juliani, as well as his cherished sister Cindy Kovach and her husband Andy of Morristown, New Jersey. He also leaves behind a precious niece, Courtney Kovach Masseur, of Palm Springs, CA. There also remains an inconsolable little Westie, MacTuff, who misses his daddy terribly.

Besides his immediate family, Rod leaves behind several dear cousins and close friends who have enriched his life and whom he loved dearly.

Rod truly had an entrepreneurial spirit and derived great joy out of anything that had wheels. He opened the first Honda dealership in Greene County, PA in the early sixties, with another "Rod's Honda Shop" soon to follow in Fayette County. He went on to develop car related products and to promote these "Super Seal Specialty Co.", was born in 1971. After 47 years his company, co-owned with his wife, continues to provide high quality products to an appreciative public.

However, who Rod was as a person really made him shine. He was always kind and humble, never thought more of himself than necessary. A very dear friend once expressed his feelings for Rod by saying, "Rod, your the most genuine person I have ever known!" No truer words!

Rod was a man of faith who loved Jehovah God and wanted to do his will. He symbolized his dedication to Jehovah in 1962 and died faithful to that vow.

In 1971, Rod and Annelen made the decision to serve God in fuller measures and were assigned a ministry in the rurals of beautiful Tennessee. They served there for 24 years. Rod took seriously God's command to "Honor your Mother and Father." As time passed and the need became apparent, Rod and Annelen moved to California to care for her aging parents. He then co-operated with his sister in the care of their mom for many years as well.

As a friend, you could always count on Rod. He was deeply loyal. Best of all, he was so funny! He saw the humor in almost anything. His cheerful disposition, his beautiful smile, his deep brown eyes with a twinkle brought such joy when in his presence. It was a gift. Rod truly believed in Jehovah's promise of a resurrection and longed to see his family and loved ones again.

Beloved Rod, our hearts are so broken now that you are gone, but we, like you, will wait in faith to be with you again in a Paradise earth of Jehovah's making. Rest now in Jehovah's memory.

“ I remember Rod so well as a friend of his little sister Cindy. He was always kind and so funny. Even though we were probably a pain to Jim, he never acted like we were. Rest in Peace Rod, and my sympathies to Cindy. Annelen and the whole family.
