“ I miss my mom everyday. I love her more than anyone could ever know. I think of her more often than I should

There is nothing in the world I wouldn't have done for her. I cry alone when I miss her and think about her. I dont have family to share my pain with but I will someday.

Mommy I miss you and wish I could have taken your place. I hope your happier now.

“ Vicki and I go way back when she was living with my sister, her step-mother, and her dad. I was in college at the U of Arizona and Vicki was all of 12 years old and testing her parents limits. I remember thinking how pretty she was with her heart,-shaped face and charming demeanor. Though we had our problems living with her family, I always hoped things would turn out well for her. Im glad she found love with family and friends and hope she is at peace.

“ I was fortunate enough to meet Vicky a few years ago. It was right when she was changing her life. She was one of the feistiest most determined firecracker of a person I have ever met.

Vicky was always going. She could never rest there always had to be a mission and adventure a journey something to push her forward. Vicky never gave up whether it came to meeting her quota in making calls or whether it came to working on her car or her children.

Her goal was to reconnect with her children. She wanted them to know how bad she felt that she missed out on parts of their lives and how she was trying to live now to be a better person to be a better mom to be a better friend to be a better example of a human being. She wanted to support her daughter Tabitha with her decision to go to college and I know she would've wanted more than anything else in the world to see her graduate. She was proud of the mother her daughter Jina had become the responsible woman that she is. Vicky would say she has nothing to do with that that Jina is just an amazing woman on her own.

What a Vicky's best days is when she went to go get pictures with her family soon after her memory started to fail her along with the rest of her self but she would come downstairs and show me pictures from both past and recent every day and tell me the same stories behind the pictures and how much the kiddos meant to her and how proud she was of all of them of all of you. Vicky also never held anything back if she was thinking it it was flying out of her mouth Vicky swore a lot Vicky loved a lot and Vicky showed continue with strength because no mother effing disease was going to keep her down she has stuff to do.

Vicky worked until she could work no more she talked until she would talk herself to sleep she would still talk about music she would still talk about her babies she would still talk about her beautiful cat Precious and how grateful she was to have her there.

Vicky gave of herself completely. She would truly have no money and ensure that other people were eating that they had coffee and that their needs were being met. She was one of the most selfless people I've ever met. And one of the strongest. She will be missed. She was loved. I am grateful I was able to say both hello and goodbye.

“ When I think of Vicky I will always think of Hershey's chocolate bars, and Rock n Roll, both of which she loved. Together we went back and forth trying to quit smoking, giving in but not giving up. she was always trying something gum, a patch, candy. we would check up on each other. Did you quit? When did you have one last? during my time with Vicky I quit and I have to attribute my success to Vicky who was there every step of the way with me. Both inquisitive and genuine, She will be missed. Thank you for the memories.

“ Vicki was a wonderful person, she was always there to lend an ear and make you laugh. She never asked anyone for anything and she never let on to anyone about how sick she really was. I am going to miss our little meetings at Castaways. I will definitely be having a Tequila Sunrise for you Vicki. She loved her family very much. She always showed me pictures of her kids and grand kids. She was very proud of all of you. Westgroup Research has not been the same since she took a Leave of Absence and she will be greatly missed. I love you Vicki, You definitely made my life better just by me knowing you, I am blessed to have had such a wonderful, warm friend that I will never forget. Fly with the Angels. My condolences to the family. My thoughts and prayers are with you all.

“ I had the privilege of knowing and working with Vicki since 9/12/2012 when Vicki became part of the WestGroup Research Family. I was her immediate supervisor and we got to know each other very well over the years. She wasn't just another number or employee, but someone who was the epitome of determination.

She never gave up at work, or in her personal life. I remember Vicki coming to me and venting about situations she was dealing with, she always had a no-quit attitude about them. Even the last time I spoke with her when she delivered the news that the doctors only gave her days to live, she was composed and still pushing forward. Vicki was a fun and loving person, full of life and family-oriented. No matter how much life or other beat her up, she never quit!

Vicki is missed and will NOT be forgotten. We love you Vicki! #putasmileinyourvoice

“ Vicki always made me laugh ... she was strong and didn't care to burden folks with her problems ..instead faced them head on.. She once told me that she didn't like asking for things from people which I always admired since I found her to be a very generous and helpful friend... I'm gonna miss her and really was happy to know her.... Rest in peace Vicki I know from talking to you that you made your peace and for me I can only hope to be able to do the same when my time comes .

“ I would like to send my sympathy to the family and let them know that it was an honor and a pleasure to know there mother and grandmother.she was co worker and a friend who will be deeply missed by all who knew her. I will especially miss her she had a good sense of humor and a good listening ear. She was one of the nicest people I've met.and I will miss our talks and going out after work to eat.she never let me know how sick she was .and was always upbeat.she was a hard worker and loved her family.she talked about you all over the five years I've known her .she's with the lord now and she's at peace, Vickie I will miss you. R.I.p.

“ Chris, I'm so sorry honey! I've been away for years now, and my memory sucks! Until I seen your name! (Vicki's Son!) of whom she loved very much, came flooding back in my mind!
(All the CHRIS stories!) lol! I'm sorry I left you out of my earlier post. And I'm sorry for the loss of your mom...
